About GATE Exam

The Graduate Aptitude Test in Engineering (GATE) is one of the most competitive exams in India which primarily tests the comprehensive understanding of various undergraduate subjects in engineering and science. GATE is conducted jointly by the IISc and IITs on behalf of the National Coordination Board – GATE, Department of Higher Education, Ministry of Human Resources Development (MHRD), Government of India.

The score is useful for the following.

- ✓ Admissions in various PG programs (e.g. ME, M.Tech, PhD) in Indian Higher Education Institutes with financial assistance provided by MHRD and other government agencies.
- ✓ Several Indian public sector undertakings (i.e., government-owned companies) recruit GATE qualified graduate engineers for entry-level positions like Management Trainee/Executive Trainee.
- ✓ GATE qualified candidates are also awarded Junior Research Fellowship(JRF) & Senior Research Fellowship(SRF). JRF & SRF are stipend-based fellowships between Rs 15000/- to Rs 20000/- in CSIR laboratories.
- ✓ Reputed Institutes like BARC also specifies that GATE SCORE CARD is mandatory for their various courses offered by the institute.
- ✓ GATE is also recognized by various institutes outside India such as Nanyang Technological University, in Singapore.
- ✓ More jobs in R&D departments generally offered to GATE qualified candidates as compared to BE/B.Tech students.
- ✓ It is an opportunity for a student to get technical profile jobs in their dream companies. The top rated universities offer highly paid packages to the GATE qualified students and moreover their placements are ensured. A good GATE score also ensures the candidate to get 200% placement during their academic years.
